Dear Sam,

Following your request to provide you with a testimonial, I am pleased to do so given your excellent service and quality product.

The need for a new solution to our front window became evident whilst we were carrying our renovations to our agency in Double Bay. As an innovator in our industry, we continually look for new and improved systems to assist our business and present ourselves in a strong light to the public. iVisual was able to achieve this by allowing for a strong customer audience to view the continual range of new properties both for lease and for sale in our front window, often after hours and weekends when the office is closed.

Additional enhancements of better and bigger screens were also introduced after we first installed the system and the process is now seamless and effective. Sam and his team were also efficient in fixing a technical problem which arose in our Surry Hills office. The screens in this office have also created much local interest.

We are pleased with our purchase of the iVisual system and recommend it to agencies looking to update their front office profile to the public and to remove the time consumed in having to change their window cards and replace it with an automated solution.

Sincerely

Trevor Leach
