

I would like to offer our services to your offices so you could start benefiting from the increase in your profile.

iVisual is seen by vendors as an indication of a real estate office commitment to technology which, increasingly, is a crucial part of a vendors decision who to list their property with!

In fact your window display tells a vendor so much about your company. Does your window accurately reflect the brand you are looking to project into the marketplace? Are you a professional? Is your business a technology leader?

Technology is revolutionizing the real estate industry. It's estimated that within the next five to seven years, the top 30% of all agents will capture 70% of real estate transactions. They will do so by using technology to differentiate themselves from their competitors, but more importantly, by providing vendors with the stage to showcase their property.

With over 76% of Australians now online (higher in cities) and 1 in 5 of these searching for properties, a new generation has emerged where when you think about that, the first place they view a property, is on a... monitor!

- Sam Bonkowski, Managing Director

Your future is digital!

iVisual Digital Real Estate Window Display is the best way to communicate your message to your market place!

Digital Display Experts

